Headline:
Largely fine and dry today. Rain and strong winds overnight.

Today:
Most places dry with prolonged spells of sunshine, however towards the coast it will be cloudier and a few showers are possible. Feeling cold with brisk northwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Starting dry this evening, with largely clear skies. However, towards midnight, cloud, strong winds and outbreaks of rain will spread in from the northwest. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Friday:
A cold day with sunny spells and blustery showers, heavy at times. Showers are likely to become increasingly wintry over higher ground, and perhaps down to lowers levels at times. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Very windy and cold Saturday with showery outbreaks, wintry away from the coast. Brighter and less windy Sunday as showers fade away. Milder Monday with cloud and rain spreading east.
